The GLOBAL LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

FOR SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

BACKGROUND

“World Economic Forum –WEF 2016 survey shows a startling 86% of respondents to the Survey on the Global Agenda agree that we have a leadership crisis in the world today where the environment has changed—it is more complex, volatile, and unpredictable. The skills needed for leadership have also changed—more complex and adaptive thinking abilities are needed. Many leaders remain focused on using old style controls and some even neglect out of ignorance on their duties as directors or leaders”, Global Focus Training Group. In 1963, Kenya had better development prospects than South Korea. As a result of the leadership gap, 45 years later, and the Kenyan development status is much weaker characterized by a much smaller economy, weak development indicators, weak institution, volatile political environment and one of the highest corruption index globally. Devolution, even though a very good idea, is yet to yield much fruit in the counties.

I Choose Life-Africa (ICL) together with The University of Nairobi (UoN), Cynar Consultants, UC Davies (USA) have developed leadership program that aims to equip leaders and the national and county level in global leadership for Sustainable Development. The program supports empower those entrusted with leadership roles to accelerate development in their counties and country through equipping them with leadership skills, twinning their counties with regions in the US, Europe and Asia and creating innovation ecosystems that transform the economies. Through this program, leaders will be equipped with visionary leadership, governance and 21 century skill for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and work towards their implementation at County and national levels.
